

The Promoters Championship is a unique collaboration of various tournaments that have joined together in an effort to create an independent Championship. They are strategically located throughout the United States so that as many Athletes as possible can qualify for the Championship as part of the Disney Martial Arts Festival at the Disneyland® Resort, Anaheim, California. The Promoters Championship is Saturday, June 19, 2010.

Same Divisions/Same Awards:

There are no special Promoters Championship divisions. Win first or second place in a qualifying division(s) and you qualify. There are no special awards for the Promoters Championship at the qualifying level.

Win one and you are in:

If you win first or second place in your regular division in a qualified division at an Official Qualifier, you are qualified for the Promoters Championship.

NEW: Win one and Pick one. In effort to give competitors more opportunities to compete while at the championship as well as increase the competition level at the championship, a new competition rule has been adopted:

Win one and pick one is if you win first or second place at a Qualifier in a qualifying division, you may pick an additional division within in that discipline. You win two first or second places; you may select two additional divisions, place first or second in three, pick three.

At The Qualifiers:

First Place winners receive:

1. Special Mickey Mouse Ears

First and Second Place winners receive:

1. Congratulations letter from the Disney Martial Arts Festival
2. Certificate of Qualifications

Fundraisers – Let the world know

There are various fundraising opportunities to help get you and your coach/school owner to the Championship. ESPN The Magazine is one way that has proven to be very successful. We suggest having your school owner contact the local press to interview her or him on your accomplishment. In preparation for the interview, take a picture with you and your coach/school owner holding the qualifying certificate. This may help raise the awareness of your accomplishment in your community and get them get behind you to offset some of the expense for your continued "Journey to the Championship". visit www.promoterschampionship.com for more information and ideas.

All Belts in three disciplines:

This championship is for all belts. The disciplines that are part of the championship include Chinese Martial Arts, Karate and Tae kwon do.

Not all Qualifiers will qualify all three disciplines:

Since it is required that judges are qualified in their respective disciplines, not all qualifiers will have all disciplines. Some will only have one, some two and a few will have all three. Please check the list of Qualifiers as to which disciplines are at a Qualifier.

Championship rules and divisions may be different than at the Qualifier:

A rules committee has determined the rules at the championship. They may be different than the rules and divisions at the Qualifier. It is vital that you review the rules at the Championship to assure that you follow them. The divisions may also be different.

For example; at the Qualifier you may have qualified for six and seven year olds, but the championship may be six and under. If you are six years old, then you would be in the six and under division. Each Qualifier needed to keep their divisions and rules as they may have responsibility to a circuit or organization and cannot change them. Since we are not a circuit we do not want them to change them. When you register for the Championship on-line, the system will place you in the correct division(s) for the Championship.
